and may Constitute an inConvenient precedent -

The pension now vacant on account of the demise of Nanjammadanmani is only Rs 3-14-2 which requires distribution among the brothers - Also to avoid Splitting up of the pension, which question may arise if the brothers do not go on amicably it is for orders if the entire family pension of Rs 15-14-2 may be redistributed and registered Separately in the names of the three Sons of the deceased Nanjammadanmani.

Submitted for orders

Noted 13/9.

The Government order of 18/11/32 was passed ordering the Separate registration of the pensions at the request of these brothers. Merely because the brothers now Say that they are living together amicably and want the pension to be registered again in the name of Kanna Swamy Raju, it would not be proper for government to accede to their wishes. Should they fall out again and want Separate registry, that would have to be complied with also; a position would thus arise, in which Government would appear to play the role of a mere registering authority, recording what the wishes of the pensioners were, a-any particular time. Such a position, it is not necessary for government to voluntarily assume. The request for registration of the whole pension in the name of Kamaswamy Raju, may therefore be refused.

(7) There remains then, the question of the pension, rendered vacant, by the death of Ranjamuddammamni. This may be ordered to be distributed equally among the three brothers.

H Leey) 13/9/35.

(8) There is no need to consider the amalgamation of the pensions separately registered into a consolidated one in the name of the principal baraadar. The existing arrangements may be continued As regards the pension rendered vacant by the death of the lady, the same may be ordered to be distributed & continued in three equal shares in the names of the three brothers.
